THE SMS

The statements below concern your personal reactions to a number of situations. No two statements are exactly alike, so consider each statement carefully before answering and answer as frankly and as honestly as you can.

If a statement is true or mostly true to you, place a tick in the TRUE column
If a statement is false or not usually true to you, place a tick in the FALSE column

	TRUE	FALSE
I would probably make a good actor.
I have considered being an entertainer.
I'm not always the person I appear to be.
I can only argue for ideas I already believe.
I find it hard to imitate the behavior of other people.
I guess I put on a show to impress or entertain people.
At a party, I let others keep the jokes and stories going.
In a group of people I am rarely the center of attention.
I am not particularly good at making other people like me.
I may deceive people by being friendly when I really dislike them.
I laugh more when I watch a comedy with others than when alone.
I rarely need the advice of my friends to choose movies, books, or music.
Even if I am not enjoying myself, I often pretend to be having a good time.
I have never been good at games like charades or improvisational acting.
My behavior is usually an expression of my true feelings, attitudes, and beliefs.
I feel a bit awkward in company and do not show up quite so well as I should.
I can look anyone in the eye and tell a lie with a straight face (if for a right end).
At parties or social gatherings, I don't attempt to do or say things that others will like.
In different situations and with different people, I often act like very different persons.
I sometimes appear to others to be experiencing deeper emotions than I actually am.
I have trouble changing my behavior to suit different people and different situations.
I can make impromptu speeches even on topics about which I have almost no information.
In order to get along and be liked, I tend to be what people expect me to be rather than anything else
I would not change my opinions (or the way I do things) in order to please someone else or win their favor.
When I am uncertain how to act in a social situation, I look to the behavior of others for cues.
